

The Review Process of Meyer & Meyer Sport

If you want to publish your academic work with Meyer & Meyer Sport through our review process your proposal has to pass following steps:

1. The Proposal

Your proposal should contain a statement of aims, a detailed Table of Content with a synopsis of each chapter, a description of the target audience for the book, and if possible some sample chapters (or even the entire manuscript). The entire proposal is usually around five pages in length without the sample chapters and is submitted via email (see below).

2. Evaluation by editorial team

Your proposal will be examined by the editorial team at Meyer & Meyer Sport. If the proposal meet current academic standards and will have an international sales base, it will be send out to our reviewers.

3. Evaluation by independent referees

We ask academic specialists to give us independent advice on the content, quality and potential market for a finished book based on your proposal or manuscript. We normally solicit a minimum of two or three reports.

4. Editorial scientific board meeting

If the reviews are positive the editorial board of Meyer & Meyer Sport will convene and decide on the publication of the book. After considering the reviews, projected costs and the market chance, the editorial board will come back to you, with either positive or negative feedback or the need that the proposal is subject to certain revisions.

The editorial scientific board consists of the Meyer & Meyer Sport`s Publisher, Editor-in-chief, Head of International Marketing and a Member of Meyer & Meyer`s scientific board.
